Miss Hattie Lewis, who has been visiting in Louisville several weeks returned home last Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. Irvine, Camp Knox, visited friends here the first of the week, and will leave for Indiana next Thursday.

Mr. Dolphus Murray went to Florence, Ala., to be at the bedside of his aunt, Miss Lou Todd, whose death is recorded elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. Piner Harvey, a prosperous merchant of Fair Play, was in Columbia Monday and made arrangements for his son to enter the new school in January the 4th.

Mr. Sid Collins and family, Miss Mary Collins, and Mr. Iva Franklin, of Eddie, Texas, passed through Columbia yesterday, en route to Montpelier. Their native home is Amanda, Va.

Mr. Geo. Fletcher, the contractor, is sick at the Marconi Hotel, threatened with pneumonia. His illness is not retarding the work at the college nor the dormitory, as both buildings are near completion.

Misses Bettie Hancock, Myrtle Myers, Fannie Jones, Mollie and Rosa Hunter, Dimple Coover, Carry Page and Cary Hughes, who are students in Madison Institute, Richmond, Ky., returned home last Friday afternoon. They were accompanied home by Miss Mattie Taylor.

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

How the time does come and go! Life with music thrills! Soon be hangin' mistletoe An' all the gals are willin'!

Only nine days until Christmas.

Adair circuit court the third Monday in next month.

The pike from here to Campbellsville is in very good condition.

Russell & Murrell invites the people through the News to visit their store.

Reed & Miller, this place, have salted away about 50 hogs up to this writing.

Mr. M. Cravens, the druggist, will remove to his new quarters the first of next month.

Those eyes are lost in which we do no good; those worse than lost in which we do evil.

The man who has my saddle will please return it to Massie & Chevalier stable. I need it. Ed Staples.

M. Cravens has a fine display of goods, suitable for Christmas presents. Call and see them.

Rheumatism, eczema and psoriasis is a combination that the wisest physician can not unlock.

Columbia Lodge, No. 96, F. and A. M., will elect officers Saturday night the 26th inst.

The protracted meeting at Gradyville is still in progress, and much interest is being manifested.

Call and see the fine display of Christmas goods at M. Cravens.

A short time ago a young man went West and a short time since he came East and now declares he will stay with us.

Hunters prevent my stock from getting water in my fields, I therefore ask them to keep off my premises. W. F. Neat.

Whoever borrowed or stole my overcoat from the Hancock Hotel would do me a great favor in returning same. S. N. Hancock.

Mr. Clemens, principal of the M. and F. High School, informs us that quite a number of new students will enter the institution the first of January.

We understand there will be a Christmas tree at the Christian Church for the benefit of the Sunday-school.

The furnace in the new school building is now complete and the man in charge is now in his place.

People about town have removed all the old sawdust and straw from their ice-houses and are now ready for the freeze.

Stock holders in the News are requested to meet in the News office next Saturday at 1 p. m. You can buy or sell.

At the close of Ed. W. K. Asbill's discourse, last Sunday forenoon, Mr. J. McScott united with the Christian Church.

Mr. Walker Bryant, one of Adair county's best citizens, has removed to his farm on the Russell Springs road, two miles from Columbia.

If you took stock in the News it would be to your interest to be in the meeting next Saturday, some action is necessary.

Sheriff Miller and his deputies are hunting and will be up with their business when court opens the third Monday in next month.

The price of eggs is down to $4.50 a dozen, which means about 10 cents in this section. About the only price that is up is pork.

Mr. Scott Montgomery and three daughters recently, beyond the post office and crossing the same, for one hundred dollars each.

Rev. U. G. Foster, of Lexington, will give a revival at the courthouse Tuesday evening Jan. 6th, in the interest of the Lindsey Wilson Training School.

We publish a letter from Hon. Geo. Neat this week which will give readers an idea what it will cost to spend a few weeks at Hot Springs, Ark.

A saw belonging to the widow Burdett, near Fair Play, was a sister of only eighteen pikes. We are not informed as to the luck but it is justly entitled to be known as the Kentucky Fortune.

Miss Sallie Ray Marcum, who is a school at Columbia last Friday afternoon, was very much pleased by her pupils, and at the close of the school they were all kindly remembered.

Men who have idle capital could make it produce by building some neat cottages in Columbia. No trouble to rent or sell. If you have money put it to work and do the world some good.

All the young men and young girls in Columbia should have heard Rev. W. C. Clemens' sermon last Sunday evening. It was upon character building and some timely advice was given.

Mr. Will Chapman, of Milltown, has been elected by our school facilities and is now a resident of Columbia for the purpose of educating his children. Others are coming and still we will have room for more and more.

The colored Baptist meeting which was in progress for several weeks at the church on the pike, near town, closed last week. Last Sunday twelve additional to the congregation were immersed in Pettisford.

Columbia Chapter, No. 7, conferred the Royal Arch degree on Companions Dr. Porter Ballou, G. T. Flowers, Jr., and Matthew Wooten last Friday night. Columbia Chapter is now in fine shape and the work upon this occasion was done to perfection.

Mr. Jno. F. Neat, who was recently elected clerk of the Adair Circuit Court, has had charge of the office several weeks. Those who have had business with him report that he is very courteous in manners, and predict that he will make a very satisfactory clerk.

In last week's issue we reported that Mr. Thomas Burge, of Taylor county, had been seriously wounded by Wiley Smith, in Campbellsville. The wounded man was removed to his home and died the following Sunday. Smith has not been apprehended.

We are frequently asked "when will the News be removed to the South corner of the square?" In answer we state that we have some necessary purchases to make in the way of a power press, engine, type, etc., and that it will be impossible to reach our new quarters before some time in January.

Mr. Owen Hardesty, of Marion county, a stock dealer, who is well-known in Adair county, was married to Miss Rosa L. Merkle, who resided near Campbellsville, last Thursday. The happy couple left immediately for Louisville. The wedding was a very quiet affair.

Several calls have been made for a meeting of the stock holders of the Adair County News Company but have all been unheeded. I desire to state that it is essential to have a meeting at an early date or the entire plant will be discarded and the company must then sell or select a man to operate it. I am going to put in a good newspaper plant and stand ready to purchase the entire stock in the News at its real value or I am willing to let it go to sale. Interested parties are again requested to meet in the News office at 1 p. m. Saturday December 19. Remember the day and be present. O. S. Harris.

A News man was in Campbellsville a few hours last week and while there took occasion to visit several stores, finding the shelves well-filled with Christmas goods. The merchants reported that their Fall trade was unusually good and that they expected very business from now until the first of January. The municipal board of Campbellsville deserve much credit for the most heretofore manifested and is now coming to light in the way of beautifying the town. All the streets are well graveled and the sidewalks nicely paved and young trees have been put out along the walks which in a few years will furnish an amount of shade. On Monday night we visited the Masonic Lodge and witnessed the conferring of the third degree, which was admirably done by Mr. C. M. Hays, who is the Master, with a corps of able assistance. The attendance was not large, due to a meeting which had been held by the chapter Saturday night before, keeping the members out until about day. The Blue Lodge has about forty members and new ones are constantly being taken in. The two hotels in Campbellsville seemed to be doing a good business. The Columbian who were in town stopped at the Commercial which is conducted by Mr. "Saggy" Vaughan, who is the right man in the right place. He has a good table and gives his guests good attention. We were told that all three of the hotels were moving along nicely, and that there was a good demand for money.

A writer in the LaRue County Herald has the following on the weather prospects: "Well, it is claimed by almost all of the weather prophets that we are to have an unusually cold winter. Not only the duck stock on the corn indicates this, but all other signs point that way. The ducks have three times as much fat as usual, rabbits have six long front teeth which will enable them to eat the bark from tree trunks while they are frozen, snakes and turkeys are hibernating three times as deep in the ground, quails have about cleaned up all the nuts and acorns in the forest, and last, but not least shingles on many houses are becoming coated with a heavy covering of fuzz. But now, what are we to do? Here comes another prognosticator who tells us that when wild geese are seen going north in the fall season we are to have a mild winter, and some have been seen going in that direction recently. So here we are, left between hawk and buzzard with Santa Claus and Christmas close at hand without knowing how to escape from the former and prepare for the latter. Shall we like bats in a hail storm, shut our eyes and take it all."

Private information from Messrs. Robertson & Coffey received last Saturday, is that they had sold all their mules but five, and unless they buy more stock in the South they will reach home in a few days. They are at Atlanta. Mr. N. M. Tutt is still with them, but he will visit Florida before he returns. He writes Mr. J. P. Beard that he is having a delightful time, and is well pleased with the South, but it is not likely that his health will stand the climate. It is predicted that he will be one of Santa Claus' escorts when the latter enters Columbia. He further stated that Santa was going to be quite liberal with the children in Georgia, but from what he could gather from the old gentleman, he was saving his nicest presents for the little folks of Columbia.

An exchange puts it about right when it says: "To whom shall you give your Christmas presents? Not to your rich friends; what need have they of your gifts? Not even to your neighbors who are blessed with reasonable property; they will suffer nothing if deprived of them. But there are those to whom your gifts will prove a veritable god-send. They are crippled, the blind, the orphan and widow. On all sides of you are those who are suffering the pangs of bitter poverty; their hearts are longing for a crumb of sympathy and cheer. Search them out; scatter your gifts among them with a liberal hand. In this you will observe Christmas in a true Christian spirit; you will be following our Great Father in whose honor we celebrate the joyous Christmas."

Rev. L. M. Russell, who at one time was pastor of the Methodist church, this place, was seriously injured at Big Spring, Ky., a few days ago. His horse stumbled and fell, breaking several bones in Mr. Russell's right hand, spraining his wrist, and one of his legs so badly hurt that he will be unable to leave his room for several weeks.

We learn over the phone that the meeting at Gradyville will likely continue through this week. All denominations are taking an interest and there have been a number of professions. Rev. Sandridge did the preaching last week, but Rev. Scruggs will occupy the pulpit the greater portion of this week. Some stirring sermons have been delivered and the song service is splendid.

FROM ARKANSAS.

Hot Springs, Dec. 8, 1903.

Editor News: Please send your paper to 505, Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark. We have rented rooms furnished for light house keeping and feel very much at home.

Hot Springs is a city of 40,000 inhabitants. At present, about 10,000 visitors are here. January and February are the months that have the big runs. The races come off next month and the occasion will bring all the sports from many States. I have met a few Kentuckians, among the number Col. Allie Young, whom I had the pleasure of meeting to-day at the Waverly Hotel where we take our baths. I found him to be a very entertaining gentleman. He made inquiry of Jas. Garnett, Jr., speaking of him in every complimentary term.

Should any of our people desire to read this way, it might be well for me to impart this bit of information: Doctor's bill, $25.00 per month. Baths, per course, twenty-one, $9.00; bath robes, from $1.00 to $25.00; bath towels, $2.00; board, from $10.00 to $100.00 per month.

One thing most remarkable is, that a drunken man is never seen on the streets. The very best of order prevails, and you rarely see a policeman. The business houses are immense, 4 to 6 stories high, of the very best material, built by the finest architects in the world. The hotels are beyond description. If all Columbia with all her wealth was put together it would not pay for the Eastman Hotel.

Very truly,
Geo. Nell.

NOTICE.

I wish to announce to my patrons and friends and to the public in general that I now own all the saw mill that I have been operating on Sulphur Creek and am now located near Jeff Wilson's.

I have bought the interest of my partner, Mr. W. B. Myers, and will proceed at once to put in the very best and latest planing mill machinery. I have a large stock of the very best poplar and oak timber on hand and persons that contemplate building in the near future will save money by seeing me and getting my prices before placing their order. Situated as I am, right in the timber, I am prepared to furnish dressed lumber at a much lower price than any one else can. All orders for any kind of building material will be promptly filled and delivered anywhere within the corporate limits of Columbia. John W. Morrison.

MT. CLOVER SCHOOL.

Mr. Editor: Will you please find a place for a few short lines from three little girls, 12, 11 and 9 years of age? Our school is out and we are all so sorry. It was Miss Mary Coffey who taught us such a good school. We are all so sorry to see her go. She treated us on twenty-five pounds of candy and will long be remembered by her pupils. Who of the teachers could have come up with that much candy? I am very thankful that Misses. Mary and Bess Coffey are learning me to play on the organ. Written by Helena Hundley, Anna Cummins and Annie Straunge.

Mr. T. R. Morrison, ex-sacrist of Russell county, has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal for the Western district of Kentucky. Mr. Morrison was in Columbia last Thursday en route for Louisville for the purpose of filing his bond. In talking to a News man he stated that his headquarters would be in Columbia, and in the Spring he expected to move his family to this place. Tom makes a splendid officer, and being an enterprising citizen, with an excellent family, our people will give him a hearty welcome.

The new school building has received the second coat of plaster and the third will be put on within a few days. The furnace is complete and two firemen at work on the day and one for night and it will be the hottest college for three weeks ever known in old Kentucky. The intensity of the heat will do the work of an entire summer in drying the walls. Seventeen stoves are in blast in the dormitory and by the first of January it will be dry from foundation to attic. Mr. Payne is leaving nothing undone to be thoroughly ready for a grand opening and a successful term.

It will be remembered that some time ago suit was brought in the Cumberland circuit court by Mrs. W. F. Owsley, Jr., to recover about $25,000 from her father-in-law, Judge W. F. Owsley, claiming that she had turned over to him a large sum of money for safe keeping. The case was tried and a judgment rendered in favor of the lady for said amount. The case was appealed and last week the judgment of the lower court was sustained, Judge O'Rear affirming the decision.

MILLINERY REDUCED. As the season is far advanced I will sell my millinery at greatly reduced prices. If you want a bargain come at once. Respectfully,
Miss Birdie Powell.

A gentleman from Camp Knox was in the News office last Monday, and while here he paid Miss Vallie Sandiego a high compliment. He stated that she closed one of the best schools ever taught at Camp Knox, and that she was very much liked by everybody in the neighborhood.

Eleven Adair and Russell County men were released from the Louisville jail last Friday, they having served terms for "bootlegging" liquor. The men who were released are: Andrew Huddleston, James Harvey, Reason Knight, Ben Wilson, Wm. F. Hale, Judson Miller, Tom Lester, Leo Wier, Jerry Elmer, Charles Hurt and Arch Williams.

AT COST.

From this date until Christmas we will sell our hats actually at cost. This is your opportunity to get what you want and save money.

Mrs. Sallie Bradshaw,
Miss Effie Bradshaw.

R. E. McCandless, who shot and killed Judge Geo. R. Price was given an examining trial at Edmondton last Thursday and was held to await the action of the grand jury, his bail being fixed at one-thousand dollars. It is reported here that the Commonwealth will establish the fact that McCandless shot first, the ball striking Price in the back. It was the second shot that entered Price's heart.

The note subscriptions to the Lindsey Wilson Training School have, during the absence of N. M. Tutt, Treasurer, been turned over to Jas. Garnett, Jr., who will receive the balance due from those who have subscribed. Those notes are due and should be paid. Call and pay what you owe Mr. Garnett at once. J. R. Hindman & Co., Guarantors.

We received a program of an entertainment which was to have been given by five of Miss Mattie Taylor's music class at Richmond last Monday evening. On account of sickness prevailing in Richmond the entertainment was called off. The following young ladies were to entertain: Misses Albrecht, Hughes, Nolan, Terrell and McGarvey.

Last week we reported that the Green circuit court rendered fourteen judgments for malicious cutting. The Record calls us down on the statement, and says there were only three judgments for said offense. Evidently our informant was mistaken, as the Record is published at Greensburg where editor Ward has access to the court records.

FOR SALE CHEAP.

One ten horse power stationary engine. Persons wanting machinery of any kind will consult their interest by first applying to the undersigned. I have facilities for procuring machinery at the lowest prices obtainable. Jos. H. Chandler, Campbellsville, Ky.

Invitations to the marriage of Mr. W. O. Coffey to Miss Pearl Marcum have been received at this place. The intended bride is one of Monticello's charming young ladies and is the daughter of Mr. T. J. Marcum, the well-known traveling man. The wedding will occur on 19, the anniversary of the intended bride, and will be a quiet affair. Mr. Coffey is a popular young business man. The contracting parties have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Died, at her home in Florence, Ala., December 10, 1903, Miss Lucinda Todd, in her 86th year. She was born January 24, 1818, on the farm of Murray Bros., near this place. She was the daughter of Judge Robert Todd, a pioneer settler of this country. She had long been a member of the Presbyterian Church and her life was that of a consistent Christian. When thirteen years old she went to Florence, Ala., to live with her brother, Dr. Levi Todd, who was a physician at that place.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

Dr. J. J. Tigert, of Nashville, who will preach the opening sermon in Sunday January 3d, is one of the ablest and most learned men in the South. He is the author of several noted books one of which is used as a text book in Yale College and has been reprinted in England.

Miss Alice Garnett, who will have charge of the Art Department, is well-known in Columbia as a talented artist and enthusiastic teacher. The Art Department ought to flourish under such a competent instructor.

Miss Margaret Holder, the Primary Teacher, is a graduate of the Louisville Kindergarten Association. She taught in the Morgantown and Madisonville graded schools and for the past four years had charge of the primary work in the College Americana at Petropolis, Brazil. She is said to be an expert in her department.

The teacher of Education, Miss Jean M. Duncan, was educated at Central University, Richmond, and has had several years in teaching. Miss Bowen, of Louisville, under whom she studied for three years, said in reference to her, "I feel fortunate to be able to suggest such a teacher." Prof. Richard O. Pace says of her: "I regard her as one of the best Education teachers in Western Kentucky."
